Team-teaching 	You think you have a pretty good grasp of a particular strategy (i.e. Think-Write-Pair-Share or Socratic Seminar) but you'd really like a buddy-teacher to lead the activity with you.
Special Project 	There's this special project you have wanted to do with your students but would like someone to collaborate with you to create/gather the resources you need, plan out the project, and create the structures your students will use in the process.
PD Review 	You really were paying attention in all of those professional development trainings but, like most people, you need a refresher from time to time. You just need someone to help you review the past professional development workshops and help incorporate what you have learned into your teaching practice.
